Authentic Native Sea Otter Articles of Handicraft & Clothing

Don’t Violate Federal Law

Sell Such Articles to Non-Natives or Non-Registered Agents Only When the Pelt is Significantly Altered from Its Natural Form

This handicraft article is an example of one kind of item that is not significantly altered because it is not stitched, blocked, or lined.

If you violate the Marine Mammal Protection Act you may face fines and penalties or even jail time.

For more information, visit: www.seaotters.org/alaska-program

“Ad paid for by Friends of the Sea Otter with support from the Fund for Wild Nature.”